Summary of State News.

BARNESVILLE.

Three loads of the new cotton crop have reached Barnesville, and found a ready sale at 18 cents per pound.—Anderson Birt, an old and respected citizen, died near this city, in Monroe county, on the 2d. He was in his ninety-fifth year.—A little unpleasantness occurred in the dining room of the Barnesville Hotel between two colored porters. No great damage was done, as one stood more upon the efficiency of his legs than of his fists.—The Baptist meeting, which has been progressing for over a month, closed last Monday night. Some thirty odd have been received into the church.—The well known phæton belonging to Mr. J. J. Clay has been repaired at the carriage factory of Messrs. Smith & Summers, at Barnesville. The carriage factories of Macon refused to undertake the job.—Patriot.

MILLEDGEVILLE.

In compliance with the recent recommendation of the grand jury, F. C. Furman, Esq., has been commissioned by the Governor judge of the County Court. He will make an able and efficient officer.—Died in Midway on the eighth ultimo, Mrs. Martha Tucker, wife of Judge Daniel Tucker, aged about 68 years. Union and Recorder.

Milledgeville was honored last week by a two days visit from a modern prophet, named Blake. He traveled in a "one horse shay" through the country; says he came from Maryland, and is on his way west. His carriage and horse are covered with scripture mottoes, and he offers to paint these mottoes on any believer's house without charge. He lives on bread and fruit, and says that the millenium has come. The Milledgeville people think he is crazy.

EATONTON.

The Grangers of Greenville invaded the back roam of Captain Shuctta, a delicate member of the order, on Saturday last, and threshed out his stock of peas for him.—The value of taxable property of Putnam county is $1,609,307, and of Baldwin $1,339,000.—The Primitive Baptist Ocmulgee Association will commence on Friday next at Enan Church in this county. Messenger.

SAVANNAH.

The new cotton crop is coming in very rapidly.—The Postoffice Department in Washington have sent a draft for $4,012 to the postmaster at Savannah, and ordered him to collect the amount immediately from ex-postmaster C. K. Osgood. It would seem that after the ex-postmaster has been out of office several months, and his accounts pronounced square, the government has just discovered this deficit.—A negro named Robert Phinizy beat his wife nearly to death last Tuesday, and on being arrested tried to escape from the officer. Two pistol balls within an inch or so of his head caused him to change his mind, and the wife beater now reposes in jail.—The schooner M. W. Weumhall, Captain Gilette, and Jennie Stout, Captain Stout, recently ran a race from Savannah to New York. The Trambali won the race by one day.—The total number of city arrests made in Savannah, from July 1st to September 1st, is 531. Of these, 178 are whites, and 353 negroes.—The colored citizens of Savannah have petitioned council for additional schools for their people. The Board of Education have taken the matter into consideration, and decided to erect another school house in the western part of the city.—Rebecca Robinson, alias Mitchell, a very notorious negro thief of Savannah, was arrested and lodged in jail last Tuesday.—Advertiser and Republican.

CALHOUN.

The temperance cause is rapidly growing in Calhoun. The Robinson Lodge, organized about eighteen months ago, with an insignificant membership, now numbers over a hundred.—Mr. Israel, who attends to Messrs. Chandler & Harper's grist mill, in Sugar Valley, sent his two little boys out late last Friday evening to a small scope of woods near his house, to drive some chickens home. Soon after he thought he heard screams, and proceeding at once to the spot where they were, he observed, to his horror, but a few feet to one side, a huge rattle snake, that had succeeded in hitting his smallest son in two places about the foot and ankle, and was coiling for another strike. After he had killed the snake, which had 11 rattles, he took his little son in his arms to his house, where, notwithstanding he used spirits freely, and did all he could to save him, the little sufferer died in less than two hours.—Mat Mayfield, a negro employed on the Selma, Rome and Dalton Railroad, was drowned in the Oostanaula, near Shellye's Station last Sunday. It came from Mat's trying to swim before he knew how.—The Gordon County Agricultural Society, by resolution at its last meeting, decided to enter the county for the county premiums at the state Fair, and appointed a suitable person for each District to collect articles for exhibition.—Calhoun Times.

AUGUSTA.

The Catholic Young Men's Society held its annual meeting Monday night, and unanimously re-elected all the old officers.—Tuesday morning as the 4:15 outward bound train on the Charlotte, Columbia and Augusta railroad was passing along Washington street Mr. J. W. Hoke, of Columbia, S. C., and a friend, carpenters in the employ of the road, attempted to jump on the platform. Mr. Hoke tripped and fell under the train. The wheels of one truck passed over his left foot, crushing it in a horrible manner. His right leg was also broken between the knee and the ankle. Mr. Hoke was sent to the hospital, and is doing as well as could be expected.—The sale of booths for the coming festival took place at the Platz Monday afternoon.—A mad dog stampeded the denizens of Washington street, Tuesday afternoon, but was finally killed by a policeman.—Judge Claiborne Snead presided in the county court Tuesday morning, and recruited the chain gang with several offenders.—Chronicle and Sentinel.

COLUMBUS.

The exercises of St. Joseph's Academy will be resumed next Monday under charge of the Sisters of Mercy.—Cotton has commenced to come in freely, and the streets are assuming a lively appearance.—Potato thieves are prowling around Columbus, and shot guns are coming into demand.—The county Board of Education held a meeting on Tuesday at the Court House. The only business of the meeting was to distribute the school fund among the several teachers entitled thereto.—Enquirer.

ATHENS.

The August term of Jackson Superior Court was adjourned by his Honor Judge Rice to the third Monday in November next.—Bishop Goss has been in Athens several days, and has delivered a number of sermons at Dupree's Hall, beginning Friday night. Large numbers of the citizens turned out to hear him.—The Athens Brass Band, colored, George Davis leader, expect to enter the lists at Macon, as contestants for the premium offered for the best brass band.—A runaway occurred in Athens on Friday last. The wagon was taken to the wheelwright's shop in a sack.—Active preperations are now going on to make the Clarke County Fair a success. At a meeting of the Executive Committee last week it was determined to open the Fair on the third day of November. Southern Watchman.

THURSDAY'S NOON NEWS

THE BALLOON.

STILL GOING—WISE SAYS BAD MATERIAL WAS USED.

New York, September 11.—The Trans-Atlantic Balloon party have made arrangements with an experienced æronaut to take personal charge of the inflation.

The departure is expected to take place to-morrow. Wise complains that the managers entirely disregarded his advice with regard to the material used for the balloon, and employed an incompetent superintendent. He doubts their ability to repair the balloon.

RIDICULOUS RUMOR ABOUT A DUEL BETWEEN GOVERNOR SMITH AND EX-GOVERNOR H. V. JOHNSON OF GEORGIA.

New York, September 11.—A dispatch from Washington says a duel is imminent in consequence of disagreements between Herschel V. Johnson and Governor Smith of Georgia. Their friends are urging an amicable settlement.

[The above cannot possibly be true. The correspondence is still progressing. It is well known that ex-Governor Johnson is a christian gentleman opposed to duelling on principle. In fact he once refused, in his early life, to fight another distinguished Georgian who challenged him. His age would now shut him out of the Code, even if he was a follower of the Code, which he is not. We may also add that it is not customary or legal for high public officials to resort to the duello in vindication of their public acts.—Eds. Constitution.]

The City of Brussels coaled and proceeded on her journey to England. The City of Bristol repairs here. The City of Bristol's passengers proceed by the speediest route.

THE LAST FOOL.

A Bold Tramp and a Lofty Jump.

A Walk Across Niagara River and a Drop of One Hundred Feet Into the River.

From the Buffalo Courier, 25th ult.]

The distance between the two banks at the point where the rope is streched across is 1,400 feet, one end of the rope being anchored directly opposite the Clifton House, and the other in Prospect Park, about a quarter of the distance from the railway incline to the new suspension bridge. This is the widest point of the river at which a rope could be got across. The rope used by the famous Blondin was stretched further down the river, where the banks are only eight hundred feet apart. The entire length of Balleni's rope is 1,500 feet. It is a three-strand manila line, 2½ inches in diameter. The banks of the river at the points where the ends are anchored are said to be about 100 feet high. When we first saw the rope it sagged down fully half the distance, but subsequently it was somewhat tightened by a capstan turned by horse-power at the American side. Still, however, the sag was as much as sixty or seventy feet, and it seemed impossbile that any human being could walk up or down the inclines. At the center the rope was ballasted with sand-bags, and it was braced on either side by a great number of guy ropes. Signor Balleni claims that his rope is the longest ever used by a tight rope performer.

At 4:20 o'clock Signor Balleni appeared on the little platform at the end of the rope on the Canada side, costumed with white tights and harlequin collar and tunic. He covered his feet with a pair of canvas shoes, rubbed the soles energetically upon a quantity of pounded rosin, and then indicated clearly that he meant business by taking up his balance-pole. The pole was of white ash, iron shod at either end, with a ring at the centre; it was twenty-two feet long and weighed upwards of forty pounds. At the signal the band struck up an inspiring tune, and with the first notes Balleni, without the quiver of a muscle or a shadow of apprehension, stepped from the brink out upon the rope and over the terrible chasm.

He began with a strong, firm step, keeping time to the music, and steadily proceeded down the great sag of the rope until he reached the centre, far down below the spectators, who were on top of the banks. There he stood still for a moment, apparently resting, with the green waters and white foam under him, and the thunder of the cataract filling the gorge. Then he proceeded on again and commenced the ascent of the park side, but here the work was more serious than it had been before, for while the rope at the Canadian end had been nearly as steady as an iron bar, it was now loosely guyed and vibrating so much as to cause the spectators considerable alarm. Upward the intrepid funambulist toiled, however, at intervals standing still for a moment on one foot to rest, until at length he reached the American bank, and amid the cheers and congratulations of the throng stepped safe on terra firma once more, having made the passage in fourteen minutes. The walk was indeed a long and a difficult one, no matter how experienced the daring adventurer might be, and, when the Signor landed upon the bank, he was somewhat exhausted as one might naturally suppose. He rested for about half an hour, then made ready for a still more terrific performance. Balleni stepped again upon the rope and came down the incline, to the centre with rapid steps, almost in a run. As he started, a boat occupied by three experienced men, pulled out from the shore to the centre of the river. Arriving at the center of the rope the Signor stooped and prepared for his awful jump. In doing so he lost his balance pole, which he had intended to attach to a guy rope so as to slide down where it could be regained. The pole fell into the river and sunk. Signor Balleni unrolled a line eighteen feet long, composed of thin strips of India rubber about an inch in width. One end of this line he attached to the main rope. Holding the other in his hands, he allowed himself to drop bodily down, and the crowds on the banks, with bated breath, saw him fall straight down full one hundred feet into the rushing flood, striking the water with a splash which could be heard above the noise and roar of the falls. As he struck he released his hold of the rubber line, which whipped back into the air high above him. In the water the Signor found himself equally at home as on the rope. Three or four strong strokes kept him above the flood until the boat was alongside him, and in a moment more he was taken in. The boat pulled to the Canada shore, where the carriage and four were in waiting. The Signor was properly wrapped up in blankets and conveyed to his temporary residence, the spectators of his thrilling exploit crowding about the vehicle and giving vent to a great deal of enthusiasm. Signor Henry Balleni, whose performances we have just related, is of Italian parentage and essentially Italian in appearance, accent and manner; nevertheless, he was born in Warwickshire, England. He is thirty-two years of age, medium height and slim build, and weighs 132 pounds. He has dark hair, a black mustache and dark eyes. The Signor first appeared as a funambulist in Australia fifteen years ago, since which time he has performed in many different countries. His method of dropping from great altitudes is, we believe, original with him. He thinks nothing of making a decent of eighty or ninety feet to the ground, but yesterday, we understood, was his first experiment of dropping into water. Each Monday and Wednesday of the season, when the weather permits, the Signor will repeat his funambulistic exhibitions.

ATLANTA:

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 1873.

Brevities.

Cleopatra conquered Cæsar at twenty-one.

Mosby is going to Richmond to practice law.

John C. Heenan, the "Benicia Boy," was in Chicago on the 4th.

Charlottesville, Va., is shipping thousands of pounds of grapes to the Northern markets.

The last hop of the season was given at Congress Hall, Saratoga, on Friday evening last.

"Hurry, mamma," said a little innocent, with his cut finger; "hurry, it's leaking."

More than half a million dollars' worth of diamonds have left Saratoga Springs within the last ten days.

There is a movement on foot in Tennessee to make Colonel John Ford House, of Clarksville, the next Governor of that State.

Marquis de Noailles, French Minister, has the reputation of giving the finest private entertainments of the season at Newport.

Bishop Morris, senior Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church in this country, is said to be hopelessly ill at his home in Springfield, Ohio.

It has become a proverb in Metz that "Marshal Bazaine thought first of the Emperor, next of himself, and last of France."

There were last week five thousand head of beef cattle at Punta Rosa, Fla., waiting for shipment to Cuba. Steamers are running, taking over five hundred at each trip.

The President is not a member of any religious order, and troubles his head very little about church matters. The only doctrine that he belives in is that of real presents, says the Courier-Journal.

General Grant and his family, together with his horses and carriages, cows, dogs and greenhouse plants, will leave the cottage by the sea, at Long Branch, for the seat of government between the 15th and 20th instant.

William Perkins is the unmusical name of a new basso, who will sing at the Convent Garden Opera, London, next year. Signor Perkins, say the critics, will not do; it will have to be Perchini. How would Perkinso do?

President McMahon's son went around to call on the Pope when he was in Rome, the other day, and the old gentleman made him happy as he was leaving the Vatican by giving him the stick which he had used during his recent walks while he was recovering from his illness.

There was great excitement in Oxford, Mississippi, the other day, over a race to get the first bale of new cotton into town. It was between Jack Anderson, colored, and Colonel Ben Nabors. The former having better control of mules got in first, but only a few feet ahead of his competitor.

The Cape May Ocean Wave has a leading article about mosquitoes, in which he says that the crop at that place, though late, is an excellent one, and that the size of the birds is rather above the average. Visitors are leaving about as fast as the railroad accommodations will permit them.

A Franklin street boy found a pocket-book belonging to a Mill Plain man on Saturday, and restored it to the owner, who gave him a five-cent piece. The boy looked at the coin an instant, and then handing it reluctantly back, audibly sighed as he said, "I can't change it."

Mr. Buffet, the President of the French Assembly, is so short-sighted that in one of the last sittings or that body he seized a decanter, instead of his bell, and threw the whole of its contents upon the heads of the House Secretaries, seated just below and before the Presidential chair. A general laugh ensued, and for a short while good humor prevailed throughout the Assembly.

One of the most curious features of the Yellowstone region is to be found in the hot spring. On the border of the Yellowstone Lake are often to be seen elevated mounds, which jut out from the shore into the water. These contain pools filled with heated water, so that it is possible for a person standing on the mound to catch trout in the lake with the help of a fishing rod, and to cook them in the boiling spring without taking them off the hook.

The President's delay in making the appointment of the Chief Justiceship is explained by some upon the theory, generally credited by members of the bar, that Roscoe Conkling has the offer of appointment, but will not decide whether to accept it or not until after the November election of a new Legislature in New York, when he will accept if the Republicans shall carry it, and thus be able to chose his successor in the Senate.

There is now quite an active movement in the fur trade, in anticipation of the approach of wintry weather. A direct shipment of thirty car loads of sealskins from San Francisco arrived in New York a few days ago. Mail advices from San Francisco report the arrival in that port of a large and valuable cargo of furs from Alaska by steamer. The list includes 57,000 seal skins, which will be shipped to London.

Among the papers found in the Bastile, and which will appear shortly in the sixth volume of the remains edited by M. Ravaisson, is a startling document going to show that Racine, the French dramatist, was summoned before Louis XIV, on the charge of having poisoned his mistress, La Duparc, a famous actress, for whom he wrote the part of Andromaque, and who died in 1688. The accusation was a false one, and was not even entertained by the King, but it worked on Racine's sensitive nature till he died, in 1699, brokenhearted.

General McClellan is general manager of a company just established in New York, which is called the United Rolling Stock Company, and might be denominated a railway livery establishment. It builds and buys, and keeps ready to loan such rolling stock as railway companies may need, such as locomotives, passenger cars, baggage cars, freight cars, etc. A railway company just established, which has not the means to stock its road properly may have locomotives and cars to any extent from this novel corporation, which has, or shortly will have, over one hundred locomotives ready for use, and cars ad libitum. The capital is placed at $3,000,000, and good dividends from its operations are considered certain.

Grant's Private Secretary.

The New Era comes to the rescue of our quondam Envoy Extraordinary to San Domingo. His mission there did not fill, and so he transferred his real estate operations to the corner lots of Washington. The New Era does not attempt a defense of the man who, it says, stands so high in public estimation, but it wants to do so. It wants to know where we got the figures from that disclose Babcock's frauds on the Federal Treasury. "Are they Democratic figures?" which, to the mind of the ex Governor of Idaho, cannot speak the truth. He wants Republican figures only. Give us such, he says, and he will vouchsafe us a respectful hearing and due consideration. All of which is so kind and gracious in our contemporary, that we proceed immediately to furnish him with the information desired.

The facts and figures in question were collected from an able and dispassionate statement of the frauds printed in a paper edited and controlled by one of Lincoln's Secretaries of War—one of the very elect—one of the faithful among the faithless. The stated facts have not been disproven, and they caused such a commotion in the breast of the President's favorite confidential agent that he straightway left the pleasures of Long Branch, and hastened to Washington to answer, so the papers of the day said, the grave charges. The following Washington special to the Courier-Journal, dated the 8th instant, contains all the information we possess relative to Gen. Babcock's defense: "It is rumored that Gen. Babcock will shortly attempt a reply to the charge of false measurement of the work done by the city ring near the Winder building. That the matter will be investigated by Congress is almost certain; and it is stated that still worse frauds by Babcock will soon be brought to light and proved by documents showing, in reference to his pretended measurements, that he has allowed twice for the same work."

If the New Era knows anything about the Winder measurements that will aid its revered friend, why not give it to the public?

KING COTTON IN 1872-'73.

Last night's dispatches brought the final cotton statement for the year 1872-'73, that our people have been looking for so anxiously.

The total number of bales runs very near four millions. The crop has sold well. Prices have averaged profitably. Probably near four hundred millions of dollars is the amount received in the South for the fleecy crop of Southern production.

It would be interesting to know how much of this large amount has gone to enrich other sections and peoples, how much has been sent away for Western provisions and foreign fertilizers, for Northern implements and to Yankee brokers. It would also be of some interest to know how much of the amount was staked and lost on cotton futures.

The report will be found valuable and interesting. Let us hope that one item will be largely changed in the coming year. Let us hope that more bales will be consumed in Southern manufactories.

The North Pole Navigators.

A deeply interesting account of the discoveries of the crew of the Tigress on Littleton Island, in connection with the crew of the Polaris, will be found in our dispatches of last night.

The fate of these unfortunate men is still in uncertainty. Whether they perished in the long night of arctic winter, horribly frozen and starved, or are still drearily battling in that terrible region of perpetual cold for existence, is a problem still to be solved.

It is a curious hardihood that leads men to incur the terrors of that region. We have no reports of any expeditions there that were not attended with simply unutterable perils and discomfort, yet year after year men incur those perils and discomforts.

The tale shadowed in the fragmentary revelations of our dispatches is one of appalling horror. The poor Esquimaux, the natives of the region, asking transportation from the doom of destruction ahead of them, and cruelly refused by the officers of the Tigress, exemplify impressively the terrors of that land of eternal ice.

There is one significant item in regard to Capt. Hall that is full of suggestiveness. It is stated that two diaries were found, and every entry referring to Capt. Hall's death was gone.

According to the dispatch the officers of the Tigress appear to have made a criminally hasty and deficient examination of the relics left on Littleton Island. A more thorough search and examination might have resulted in their finding some valuable clues for further hunt.

The episode is another addition to the unbroken record of disaster and death in North Pole investigation, that mysterious, unsolved and perilous problem of the many connected with the great WORLD which we inhabit.

The Value of Advertising.

Overwhelming argument can readily be produced to show the immense value of advertising. But a fact is always better than argument, however strong. Yesterday one of our leading wholesale merchants stated to a party of gentlemen, that a five dollar advertisement some time since brought him two customers who have, up to this time, purchased from him at least fifteen thousand dollars worth of goods. They themselves stated that the advertisement in THE CONSTITUTION induced them to the house.

GORDON ON CÆSARISM.

A New York Herald Reporter Interviews Gen. Gordon at the Greenbrier Springs, Virginia.

GENERAL J. B. GORDON, of Georgia, the new United States Senator from that State, was the next prominent Southern representative that I met. The General is regarded in the South as one of the most dashing and gallant officers of the late Confederacy. He succeeded to the command of Stonewall Jackson's corps after the death of that famous officer, and at one time he commanded an entire wing of the Confederate army. He is now the leader of the new and young class of democratic States' rights politicians that have sprung up in the South since the close of the war, and is looked upon as the representative Southerner, not only of Georgia, but of this entire section in the United States Senate. The General very kindly accorded me an interview, which took place in the open air while walking around the main hotel here on the western side.

Correspondent—General, have you give the proposed third term for General Grant, as discussed in the newspapers, any consideration?

General—Yes, I have.

Correspondent—Do you think there is any prospect of the election of General Grant for a third term?

General—I think there is, and regret it exceedingly.

Correspondent—Why? Do you believe it would be inimical to our republican form of government?

General—I am satisfied beyond a doubt that it would. I am in favor of in the Presidential office, and would be glad to see an amendment of that sort added to the Constitution. What we need now, more than at any other period in the history of the government, is disinterestness in its administration. We can only accomplish this by stripping the President of personal incentives. But the great danger in this third term movement is to the elective feature of our government—one of the most sacred privileges we enjoy. The repeated election of any man to the Presidency, and especially when that man is General Grant, I consider full of danger to the Republic.

Correspondent—But why General Grant more than any other man? Is he not as much of a patriot as the average American?

General—Understand me. I am not discussing General Grant's fitness or unfitness for the Presidency; nor am I speaking in any way to disparage his patriotism. But what I say is this, that if the earlier Presidents were correct in supposing, as they doubtless were, that the continued re-election of the same man to the Presidency was contrary to the genius of an elective government, than a fortiori, would the re-election of General Grant be full of danger. It is more dangerous to re-elect him than it would have been to re-elect for a third term any of his predecessors.

Correspondent—How do you explain that, General?

General—Well, the reason is obvious, and I am only surprised that it has not been referred to before in any of the discussions I have seen upon this subject. General Grant, by reason of the position he held at the close of the war, was regarded in some sort as the representation of the power of the government. The people of the North have regarded him in that light—as the

of that power. For that reason, more than any other, they elected him President, which, from the Northern standpoint, was well enough. But circumstances have created in the public mind a sort of habit of transferring from the Executive office the powers which belong to it to the person of General Grant himself, and in that habit is found the peculiar hazard to which I refer. Like all other habits of thought, it will gradually strengthen into a conviction that the finances and the government will be more stable under General Grant than under any one else, and after a while the people will acquiesce if this habit be not broken up, in a life-time Presidency. This is the danger, and I am very glad that the Herald has brought the subject so prominently to the notice of the people.

Correspondent—Do you believe the republican party will re-nominate General Grant, and if nominated can they elect him?

General—Yes; I think they will renominate him, and I think further they can elect him, if any republican can be elected; but I have not despaired of seeing a party successful upon the strict construction ideas. If we could remove the war issues out of the way, I believe the people would again demand that the general government to the exercise of its clearly defined powers. I look with great interest to the farmer's movement in the next general elections. I hope they will be able to divert the public mind from the war issues, which have entered so largely into the late elections, to the pressing wants of the country.

Correspondent—Do you think a third term for General Grant the first step towards despotism or empire, and if usurpation were attempted would the people resist?

General—I think, for the reasons already given, that the election of General Grant for a third term would be a most dangerous step in the direction you suggest. I cannot call it the first step, for I think several have already been made towards empire. As to usurpation, I should hope that there would be found enough of love for republican government left among the people to induce them to resist.

Correspondent—Would the Southern people take any active part in resistance if empire were attempted?

General—It would be absurd in the Southern people to attempt armed resistance alone. Indeed, I think many of them will be almost indifferent, unless they should receive of republican government. If, however, a sufficient movement were made by the North to insure a successful resistance, the South would, I am quite sure, co-operate actively.

The bell for dinner ringing just at this time, the interview came to a close.

BUTLER'S DEFEAT.

BUTLER'S PROGRAMME RIDICULED.

BOSTON, September 11.—Commenting on the defeat of Butler, at Worcester yesterday, the Boston Advertiser says: "It is hardly known yet whether General Butler and his champions were a squad or an army. When they started out on the expedition they had a fine time for a day or two, everything their own way; nobody was looking out for them. They not only proposed to take Massachusetts, but declared that they had captured Washington, New York, Long Branch, Kansas, and all the outlying provinces, and it really looked something like it. The convention yesterday not only undeceived the people of Massachusetts in this respect, but we trust the federal administration whose confidence has been abused and whose generosity has been abused in riotous living."

MIDNIGHT NEWS.

THE ILL-FATED POLARIS.

THE TIGRESS STRIKES UPON VESTIGES OF HER ICE COST CREW, BUT FAIL TO FIND THEM.

A SKELETON OF A THRILLING TALE

ST. JOHN'S, September 11.—On the 14th of August the Tigress passed Cape Alexander and Port Foulke. It was now all day light.

A rock in the vicinity of Cape Olzen was recognized by cape fishers as the same that hid the Polaris from the view of the party on the ice floe. The vessel was here stopped by order of the commander, when the sound of human voices was heard in the distance. A boat was instantly lowered, it was about 9 o'clock in the evening, and amid the greatest excitement Commander Greer exclaimed:

I SEE THEIR HOUSE!

Two boats are clearly perceptible, and moving human figures can be seen on main land near Littleton Island. There was considerable exultation on board at this. In an hour after a boat returned from the shore but only brought disappointment to the eager crowd that awaited intelligence. Captain Buddington and his party had gone south in the middle of June last in two boats, hoping to meet up with friendly whaling vessels to carry them to Newfoundland. The Tigress boat was again manned, accompanied this time by commander Greer, and Esquimaux Joe as interpreter. A crowd of Esquimaux, consisting of five men, two women and two children, greeted them on their arrival on shore, where they found a house abandoned and presenting a scene of the wildest confusion. Broken nautical instruments lay on the floor, while the remains of a mutilated log was scattered about in every direction. The Esquimaux had come from Ponds Bay, and had remained with the Buddington party all winter. The house contained a stove room, a ships galley, and stoves, tables and chairs—all were taken from the Polaris. There were fourteen bunks ranged along the sides of the chief apartment. Only half an hour was spent in searching for records by the commander and his men. Esqumaux Joe conversed with his kinsfolk present briefly, but the boat was quickly ordered away. The party from the Tigress picked up what curiosities they could and then returned to the ship. The boat was manned the third time and this party picked up some torn diaries. All reference to the death of Captain Hall being destroyed, with the exception of a torn memorandum, setting forth the agreement between Buddington and Chester to continue the search for the North Pole. Nothing of importance [illegible]. The Esquimaux pointed out the [illegible] where the

and stated that Capt. Buddington had given them the ship, but that when the ice broke in the middle of July she floated into a small cove and went down. A small iceberg had grounded on the wreck, which was in about 9 fathoms water.

No attempt appears to have been made to examine the position of the wreck and nothing was ascertained as to how the winter was passed, whereabouts of the missing, or how they spent their time while waiting for the ice to break out. The entire time of the Tigress in the neighborhood of Littleton Island was only five hours. The Esquimaux were not sufficiently interrogated when first seen from the deck of the Tigress. These people were in the uniform of sailors of the United States navy, but they subsequently changed their clothes and redonned their Esquimaux apparel. The Esquimaux moreover had but little provisions, their food being nearly all consumed; neither had they any boats. Under these circumstances and through the medium of Dusky Joe, they asked to be taken on board the Tigress but commander Greer declined to allow them to do so. After the boats had returned to the Tigress three cheers were given for homeward. The assistant ice pilot reported an ice blink fifteen miles off, and the vessel was hastily headed South at fifteen minutes past two o'clock in the morning after an unsuccessful search and leaving the unfortunate Esquimaux to battle with fate.

Instead of crossing to the westward of Cape York and following the probable track of Buddington's party towards Pond's Bay, the Tigress returned to Upper Navik on the 19th of August and arrived at Good Haven Disco on the 25th. Although the Tigress had again been in search the prospects of finding them are discouraging unless, however, as they hoped, they have been picked up by whaling ships.

The Decatur News: We are informed that a very unpleasant difficulty took place at or near Heartsells, on Sabbath. Rev. Thomas Morrow, an aged and venerable Presbyterian minister, had preached, when, at the close of the services, Rev. J. M. Pickens asked leave to address the audience. This being granted, he rose and disputed Mr. Morrow's position so bluntly as to arouse his son, who was in the congregation, and considering his father insulted, as our informant says, made for Mr. P. He was, however, restrained by the advice of friends. Another son of Mr. M.'s coming in, and learning the cause of the disturbance, was about to go for Mr. P., when Mr. P. was induced to desist, and leave the grounds.

The usual quiet of our town was disturbed on Wednesday evening by a shooting affray, in which Samuel Weaver of this place was mortally wounded. It appears that Weaver was in company with Mr. Crenshaw, the person who afterwards shot him, at the Bismarck restaurant, and that they got into an altercation, in which Weaver threatened to strike Crenshaw with a chair, and Crenshaw drew a pistol to defend himself. They however parted without any blows, and Mr. Crenshaw passed on down Church and Bank streets, and was followed up by Weaver, who tried to run over him with a horse, and in other ways showed a determination to push the difficulty to extremes. Weaver got hold of a large shoe knife finally, and rushed upon Crenshaw, inflicting an ugly gash on his lower jaw, in good range for his throat, when Crenshaw fired, and the ball entering just at the lower edge of the breast bone, ranged downward and to the right, grazing the lower lobe of the lungs and striking the liver and bowels. Weaver is still alive this (Thursday) noon, but no hopes are entertained of his recovery. An investigation before Esquire Banks showed that the shot was in self defense, and resulted in the discharge of Mr. Crenshaw.—Decatur News, September 5.

BUFFALO SPRINGS,

Mecklenburg County, VIRGINIA.

THIS WATERING PLACE, THREE-FOURTHS of which has recently been purchased by Col. Thomas F. Goode, is now owned by himself and T. Paxson. It is open for the reception of visitors under the management of the latter, assisted by Thos. W. J. Baptist, Esq.

It is asserted with entire confidence that these waters are among the most powerful of known remedies in a very large proportion of the maladies with which the human family is afflicted. They are specially indicated in all affections of the stomach, liver, spleen, bowels, and urinary passages, and in the various and complicated diseases peculiar to females, and it is in this latter class of diseases that the greatest power and efficacy of these waters have been attested.

In support of the claim so confidently made, read the following testimony of eminent medical men and prominent citizens of Mecklenburg, who have been familiar with this spring for many years:

Letter from Dr. G. A. Wilson, an eminent physician of North Carolina, and formerly Professor in the Medical College, Richmond, Va.

GRANVILLE COUNTY, N. C., July 8th, 1873.

Col. Thos. F. Goode:

My Dear Sir—I have been much gratified to hear, through a mutual friend, of your recent purchase of the Buffalo Springs property, and of your determination to have improvements somewhat commensurate with the medical value and virtue of these waters.

I have been observing the effects of these waters upon diseased conditions of the human system for more than thirty-five years. As a general Tonic, and invigorator and Renovator of the great functions of nutrition (no matter what may have been the cause of deterioration) I know of no equal in the shape of physic, and no superior in the medicinal waters of America.

The particular class of cases which are most benefitted, embrace the whole of that numerous family which physicians recognize as resulting from the long continued action of malarial causes. Situated as these waters are, at the head of the basis of the Albermarle sound, easily accessible to all the malarial regions of our insalubrious seaboard, I regard as the compensating bounty of a beneficent Providence. I do not hesitate to say that the man who will bring these waters into such notice as they deserve, will become a public benefactor. Very truly your friend,

GOODBRIDGE A. WILSON.

Letter from Dr. O. F. Mason, an eminent physician of Richmond.

RICHMOND, VA., July 5th, 1873.

Col. Thomas F. Goode:

Dear Sir—In reply to your favor of the 3d inst, I would say that the Buffalo Springs in the county of Mecklenburg, Va., have long enjoyed a deservedly high reputation with physicians and the public for possessing valuable medicinal properties.

During a residence of twenty-one years in the State of North Carolina, which was yet in the vicinity of Buffalo, I had numerous opportunities of witnessing the beneficial influence of its waters. I do not remember their exact chemical analysis, but I know that they are strongly Chalybeate, and I have observed their sanative effects in diseases attended with, or succeeded by general debility, such as Atonic Dyspepsia, Malarial Cachexia, Chlorosis, Anemia, Hypocondarasis, Hysteria, Functional Cardiac Palpitation, etc.

The waters have been found especially curative in case of Chronic Intermittent Fever, many intractable cases having been thereby restored to perfect health in a brief space of time.

Very respectfully yours,

O. F. MASON, M. D.

From Dr. S. G. Harris, of Boydton.

BOYDTON, VA., July 3, 1873.

Col. Thomas F. Goode:

Dear Sir—I have learned with much pleasure that you have recently purchased an interest in the Buffalo Springs. I deem it a matter of congratulation to that large class of invalids who usually resort to this watering place, that its resources and accommodations will be fully developed under the administration. The medicinal powers of these waters had only to be fully known to secure for them a popularity second to no other in this State. For the last twelve or fifteen years I have been accustomed to advise those of my patient suffering with a certain class of disease to go there, with the utmost confidence in their improvement.

In general debility, consequent upon long attacks of disease, especially malarial fevers, dyspepsia in all its form, diseases of the bowels, liver and urinary organs, it is in my opinion equal to any known mineral water and I regard it as a specific for all those diseases arising from loss of tone and strength on the part of the reproductive organs in the female.

Very respectfully yours,

SAM'L G. HARRIS, M.D.

From Drs. Jones and Jordon of Boydton.

BOYDTON, VA., July 3, 1873.

Col. Thomas F. Goode:

In reply to your favor asking our opinion in regard to the medicinal virtues of the waters of Buffalo Springs, we have to say that we regard them equal for certain diseases and conditions of the system to any in Virginia. We can recommend them especially for all diseases requiring a tonic in which iron is needed. In chills and fevers and atemic condition of the digestive system, including various forms of dyspepsia, enlargement of the spleen and liver, resulting from continued attacks of chills and general debility. Not only as a tonic, but as an alterative, they will prove useful in a large class of diseases, especially those of a chronic character, as rheumatism, Scrofula, Neuraigia, etc.

These waters have also a most salutary influence on diseases of the kidneys and bladder, and are particularly efficacious in diseases of females.

Yours truly,

WM. H. JONES, M. D. M. M. JORDAN, M. D.

From Dr. John R. Leigh, of Clarksville:

CLARKESVILLE, VA., July 3, 1873.

Colonel Thomas F. Goode:

In reply to your favor asking my opinion as to the medicinal value of the Buffalo Springs water, I have to say that I consider it highly beneficial in a large class of diseases. Not from a careful analysis, but from the effect I have seen upon persons visiting the springs, I would recommend it in cases of dyspepsia, general debility and female diseases.

Very truly,

JOHN R. LEIGH, M. D.

From Hon. Wm. Townes, of Mecklenburg:

The undersigned having been born and raised within a few miles of the Buffalo Springs, in the county of Mecklenburg, and now an old man, takes pleasure in recommending the water to the afflicted. In cases of dyspepsia and cutaneous disorder, I regard it as infallible. I have visited for years all the mountain springs, and consider these waters equalled by few and surpassed by none for many diseases.

After having been a sufferer from Dyspepsia in a severe form for some years, I was entirely relieved by the use of these waters, after having tried without benefit the justly celebrated Alleghany Springs, of Virginia. For delicate females it may be appropriately characterized as a Pool of Bethesda.

It is situated in a healthy portion of our county, and I take pleasure in recommending the present proprietors to all in search of either health or pleasure. I believe verily that the people of lower Virginia and North Carolina would be as much benefitted by our location as they would be anywhere, and I advise them to come to Buffalo. WM. TOWNES, SR.

From Henry Wood, Esq., a Prominent Member of the Mecklenburg Bar:

I have resided in seven miles of Buffalo Springs, Mecklenburg County, Va. for thirty years. Have been a frequent visitor there and had ample opportunity of observing its effects in various forms of diseases, and it affords me pleasure to bear my unequivocal testimony to its remarkable power and virtue, as a remedial agent, in a large class of diseases, and to its special efficacy in all malarial diseases and affections of the stomach in their varied forms.

I have been myself a dyspeptic for many years, and have found nothing to give me the relief afforded by a visit of from two to four weeks at these Springs.

HENRY WOOD, SR.

From Captain E. A. Williams, Cashier of the Bank of Clarksville:

I have been a frequent visitor to Buffalo Springs for a number of years as an invalid, and both from experience and observation feel warranted in expressing the opinion that the waters of these Springs are possessed of great curative power in many forms of disease. It has in many instances acted like a charm in renovating my system when in a feeble and depressed condition.

He had to pay ten cents per bushel freight, when the published charges are 14 cents per 100 pounds. Upon sending to the officers of the road they were informed that the rate was 20 cents per 100 pounds.

Mr. A. D. Adair moved that the Committee on Transportation request the several railroad companies to furnish the Board of Trade with the local tariff of their several roads. This motion prevailed.

Col. J. N. Dunn called attention to a circular issued by a party doing business here giving a wrong construction of Section 13 of the tax ordinance of Atlanta. The ordinance does not affect the sale of goods by sample.

THE FOOL-FISHERS' NEW BAIT.

How the Swindling Gang Get Over their Exclusion from the Mails.

The gift enterprise swindlers, upon having their letters sent to the dead-letter office, have begun to use the express lines in their business of gulling. They have flooded the country with spurious certificates of much the old pattern, the following being a sample of the latest:

> UNITED STATES TONTINE ASSOCIATION.
> Prize Certificate No. 1,898, > the holder of which has drawn a
> ROSEWOOD MELODEON, > valued at $120.
> To be forwarded on receipt of One Dollar (and $3 50 for expressage and packing.)
> All prizes drawn must be applied and remitted for in thirty days.

With this was sent a lithographed letter giving the firm name of Escombe Brothers & Co., 21 Park row, advising the supposed greenhorn to send the seven dollars and a half by express. "The mails are very unsafe," they say, and money must never by sent to us in that way. We will only be responsible for amounts sent by express." Another bait of the same gang is a long advertisement, inserted in the inland newspapers to the aggregate cost of thousands of dollars, and signed by "Dobbs, Gilsey & Co., 21 Park row."

A new feature in this business is the printing, in advertisements and circulars, of fictitious recommendations of the press. Still another firm ostensibly does business at 46 Broad street, under the name of "Giles, Morre & Co., managers of the Mercantile Prize Association," and gives numerous fictitious names of persons who they say have drawn large prizes. None of these persons can be found at the addresses given. They get their packages at the express office, and are reaping a good harvest.

The majority of their circulars are sent to the South and Southwest, and to so great a distance that the swindled fools can make no efforts at redress. The giving of false press recommendations inspires confidence, and the returns—in sums of five, six, and seven dollars—are growing larger every day. The names of well known newspapers are attached to these commendatory notices, always excepting the Sun, whose frequent exposures have warned the swindlers against taking such liberties. One of these forged notices is intended to nullify the effect of previous exposures, but the rascals dared not squarely credit it as will be seen, to any specified publication:

In justice to the "United States Tontine Association," whom we abused roundly in our columns on Saturday, pronouncing them swindlers and humbugs, we desire to apologize for our hastiness, and we frankly admit that business as conducted by them will defy the closest scrutiny. They are all fair and honorable business men, and we hope our friends will patronize them largely. Are you satisfied, gentlemen?—Journal, April, 1873.

The postoffice detectives say that the operators are old sawdust swindlers, and have invested considerable capital; but no letters are delivered to them, except in isolated cases where carriers have acted in collusion for a share of the profits. Their plan of sending out the bait through the mails, and hauling in the gudgeons by express, is in full operation. So far as is known the business is limited to four men, and their profits are estimated at $100 each a day.

The above is clipped from the New York Sun. We learn that the Express Company has in vain endeavored to stop this wholsale swindling. They have put up cards warning the public to "beware" of the saw dust, but notwithstanding the warning, there are parties who "go in lemons" only to "get squeezed."

THIRD WARD DEMOCRACY.

Rousing Speeches by Howard Van Epps, Alderman Beatie, Alderman Young, Colonel John Thomas, Jeff Robinson, J. B. Goodwin, J. A. Anderson and J. H. Smith.

The Third Ward Democracy met at Thompson's store, on Fair street, last night. Mr. A. Connally was called to the chair and John S. Wise requested to act as Secretary.

A committee was appointed to report permanent officers, of which Alderman Beatie was chairman. That committee reported the following names:

President—James G. Kelly.
Vice-President—W. Y. Lingford.
Secretary—A. Connally.
Treasurer—J. S. Wise.

Executive Committee—W. A. Bonnell, G. W. Terry, J. Sid. Holland, Dr. W. R. D. Thompson, Ed. Smith, Zack Smith, Jacob F. Sponceler, Frank Lee, Amos Moore.

The report was unanimously adopted.

The President being absent, Messrs. Young, Beatie and Thompson were appointed a committee to escort W. Y. Langford, Vice-President elect to the Chair. Vice-President Langford, on taking the Chair, returned thanks for the honor conferred and pledged himself to fulfill the duties to the best of his ability.

During the meeting rousing speeches were made by Howard Van Epps, Alderman Beatie, Alderman Young, Colonel John Thomas, Joseph H. Smith, Jeff Robinson, J. B. Goodwine, and J. A. Anderson.

The tenor of all the speeches were for united and harmonious action, and for a nomination for Clerk of the Superior Court at the election on the fourth of October. The speech of Jeff Robinson was noted for its brevity and pith.

Alderman R. C. Young offered a resolution which was adopted with great unanimity, that it was the sense of the Third Ward Democracy that the Chairman of the Executive Committee of Fulton County Democracy call a meeting at once to nominate a candidate for Clerk of the Superior Court.

The Third Ward Democracy are fully aroused and are in good condition for effective work.

The Club adjourned subject to the call of the President.

THE Ladies' Memorial Association will meet at the Young Men's Library, this afternoon at five o'clock to make preparations for the Dickens party.

R. M. CLARKE, at Flat Rock, wants a good cook and a house servant.

Y. M. C. A.—The Young Men's Christian Association met last night in their beautiful and commodious hall, No. 52 Whitehall street. The meeting was quite interesting. Speeches were made by John N. Caldwell, Esq., of Jacksonville, Ala.; J. V. B. Ackerman, of Selma, Ala., and Dr. J. Stainback Wilson, of this city. We are pleased to learn that Messrs. Caldwell and Ackerman will locate in Atlanta. We extend them a cordial welcome. The Association resolved to have a course of lectures this fall. We are gratified to note the increasing interest manifested in the Association, and the fine singing by the Quartette Club.

SUPREME COURT OF GEORGIA, September 11, 1873.

ALBANY CIRCUIT.

No. 10. Argument concluded.

No. 5. Dismissed for defective service.

No. 11. M. B. Potts, administrator, et al, vs. John Neal, et al. Equity, from Mitchell. J. Rutherford, A. D. Hammond, R. H. Clarke, for plaintiffs in error. Lyon & Irwin, Vason & Davis, contra.

Pending the argument of Mr. Lyon, the Court adjourned until 10 o'clock A. M. to-morrow.

Twelve cases still undisposed of on the Albany circuit.

The United States Courts.

The District and Circuit Courts of the United States met yesterday morning pursuant to adjournment at their usual hour, his Honor Judge Erskine presiding.

In the District Court Mr. F. V. Mossdorf, who was on Wednesday found guilty of carrying on the business of a wholesale liquor dealer without paying the special tax, through his attorneys, Messrs. Hill & Conley, filed a motion for a new trial. His grounds are newly discovered evidence and that the verdict of the jury was contrary to the law and the testimony.

The case against Napolean C. Tankersby for illicit distilling, which had been set for trial yesterday, was called, and no defendant responding the land was declared forfeited. Mr. Ezekial Dunnigan is the security.

The United States vs. James F. Duncan for illicit distilling. This defendant waived formal arraignment and plead guilty. He was sentenced to be imprisoned in the common jail for two months, and to pay a fine of $100 and costs.

In the United States Circuit Court Hon. W. P. Price, of Dahlonega, was admitted to the bar.

The following cases were also disposed of.

United States v. s. Joseph H. Cook, scire facias Motion to set aside a judgment. Motion granted, and judgment set aside on account of failure of service the writ.

United States v. s. William Jones. Indictment for illicit distilling. This case was tried, and the defendant found not guilty.

Seventeen true bills against Deputy Marshal Henry Martin for exacting illegal fees, were taken up and disposed of by the following order:

"Upon representation of the United States Attorney, that the investigation before the grand jury in the above cases was made after the resignation of J. D. Pope, late United States Attorney, and before the present United States Attorney was qualified, and it being further shown that there are defects upon the faces of said indictments in said cases, it is therefore ordered by the Court that a nolle prosequi be entered in each of said cases."

George S. Wolf, vs. Walter H. Weems, J. S. Pemberton, and O. A. Lochrane, bill etc., in equity. This cause was heard at this term, and yesterday the report of the Master in Chancery, Logan E. Bleckly, to whom this case was referred was confirmed, no exceptions having been filed, and judgment was granted against the defendants for $5,189 67, principal $868 64, interest to the 24th of March, 1874, $560 expenses, and further interest and costs. And it was further ordered that the defendants pay over to complainants said amounts within sixty days from the date of this order.

Josiah Shin, a petit juror, was excused for the term, and Virgil Hopson, another was excused until Thursday next.

The United States vs. John R. Shockly, John C. McLean and George S. Summer. Debt, etc. This case went to trial, and the jury found a verdict against Shockly and Summers.

At one o'clock the two courts were adjourned until ten A. M. to-day.

The Justices' Courts.

These courts tried no criminal business yesterday. This morning Justice Butt will try three negroes implicated in the recent burglary upon Mrs. Frank's store.

CONVICTED.—We learn that the jury in Coweta Superior Court, returned a verdict of guilty in the case of Creese Combs, charged with the murder of Manson Newell. Just after the prisoner was arraigned quite a sensation was created in Court by the appearance of some half dozen of his female relatives, weeping over and kissing him.

THE DeKalb county correspondent of the Gwinnett Herald does the State School Commissioner grave injustice in the last Herald.

THE Barnesville Gazette man says: "We are out of soap." Well, then, send up to Dr. Hitchcock; he can supply you.

DON'T be left out in the cold, but send in your advertisements for the big edition of Sunday, to-day.

"THE Forest and Stream" of New York is winning popular favor already. S. A. Atkinson, well known in Georgia, is Business Manager, and Charles Hallock, Managing Editor. It is handsomely printed and well conducted in every department.

SEND in your advertisements to-day (Friday) if you would have them appear in the big edition on Sunday.

ALL who wish to avail themselves of the benefit of the big edition of THE CONSTITUTION, to be issued on Sunday, will send in their advertisements this day, Friday.

THE Commonwealth Life Insurance of New York is economically managed, its plans of insurance popular, and its directors among the best financial men of Wall street. Mr. Thomas U. Conner, the general agent at Macon, is a gentleman of integrity and business probity. The writer has known him for many years and can cheerfully endorse him.

ANOTHER ROMAN GONE.—Yes, after years of stern resistance to the attractions of the fair sex, another Roman has departed from a life of single blessedness into the matrimonial state. Having regulated the mails so well, he concluded that he might venture to take charge of a female. If he could not get to govern a Western Territory, he could at least institute a home government of which he would be the chief. Yes, Major Zack B. Hargroye has fallen a victim to woman's charms. On last Wednesday night he was married, at Stone Mountain, to Miss Josie Smith, a young lady noted for her personal graces and amiable character. We wish the newly wedded all the happiness that can be crowded into their lives, lengthened out to fourscore and ten.

Mr. James D. Collins is announced as a candidate for Clerk of the Superior Court. He gives all the proceeds, except his salary, to Mrs. W. R. Venable. Mr. Collins is the present clerk and has the benefit of many years experience in the position. Mr. Collins and W. H. Venable, son of the late Clerk, (who will be deputy) are very popular with all classes. They are courteous, prompt and efficient in the discharge of their duties.

THE HOP.—Another of Colonel Nichols' pleasant Hops occurred last night. The attendance was not as large as at some of the previous Hops, probably on account of the number of entertainments that have recently taken place in the city, but was more enjoyable on account of the absence of any formality. The guests betook themselves to the ball room and made the hours pass rapidly by dancing to the splendid music their host had provided, and in endless conversation with attentive beaux. Among the strangers present was a little belle from Savannah, and a little belle from Columbus, who attracted much flattering comment by their pretty faces and pretty dancing. Some of Atlanta's fairest ladies were also present, as also were a plenty of beaux. The entertainment was most enjoyable, and was kept up till a very late hour.

THE ROME FAIR.

Rome Crowded—Nearly One Thousand Entries—Guilford, Wood & Co., Get a Premium.

ROME, September 11, 1873.

To-day has been a perfect gala day. The town has been crowded all day, and there was at least FIVE THOUSAND PEOPLE on the fair grounds during the day.

As I have written before, the display of blooded stock was very fine, especially in blooded cattle thoroughbred stallions, geldings, and mares. The entries foot up nearly one thousand.

GUILFORD, WOOD & CO., of Atlanta, get premiums on their piano and organ. The contest for the best cooked dinner is spirited and attracts attention. There are five entries. As soon as it is settled will advise you.

Among the paintings on exhibition are those of Miss Kate Hillyer and the Rome Female College. They deserve special mention.

The Convention of Bee-Keepers meets in Oxford, Alabama, next year. It was well attended. W.

DEATH OF AN OLD SAVANNAH LADY.—By a private telegram, we were pained to learn of the death, yesterday, in Savannah, of Mrs. Teft. The deceased was one of the oldest citizens in the city, dating back almost to its infancy, and universally esteemed for her many virtues. She leaves a wide circle of attached friends to mourn her loss.

Off for Stanton.

There was quite a large assemblage of people yesterday evening at the Union Passenger Depot to witness the departure of so many beautiful young ladies for Stanton, Virginia. The farewell scene was tender and pathetic. Some were wreathed in smiles and some bathed in tears. There was a regiment or more of young beaus redolent of cologne and flowers there, each provided with a snow white handkerchief to "wipe away the farewell tears." Many of them pretended to be crying while it was in earnest.

The crowd gathered around the Pullman Palace Car Alabama, ("Here we rest,") and just as the train moved off a noise was heard like the popping of many caps, caused by what a learned young man called "an elliptical smack." We are plain enough to call it "kissing." One of the young men of the party was dressed in a linen coat reaching to his heels. He was dubbed "Parson Nash" at once. Col. Jack R. Wallace and Judge J. A. Hayden left in charge of the young ladies. They both appeared to be in excellent spirits and in good humor. We commend them to the good people of Staunton, and trust they will not let Messrs. Wallace and Hayden leave without delivering a lecture.

May each and every one return home safe.

Local and Business Notices.

A TURN OF THE WHEEL.—The only possible objection which can be made to the investing of a small sum in what is known as lottery speculation, is the current idea that the distribution is not honestly carried out, and that the largest prizes fall to the share of apocryphal names having no real existence. There have been, however, recently, three grand gift concerts, which have been conducted on the highest principles on honor, and with which the public have been perfectly satisfied; even parties holding unsuccessful shares readily testifying to the liberality and honesty of the managers and the strict impartiality of the method of drawing. These drawings were for the benefit of the Public Library of Kentucky, and a fourth concert on a still more magnificent basis is now in preparation. So equitably are the prizes in this new adventure arranged, that every fifth ticket holder draws a gift, and the grand first gift of $250,000 may thus be secured by an outly of $50, while other prizes aggregating $1,500,000 and ranging from $100,000 to $150 will be submitted to the turn of the wheel, and the fiat of fickle Fortune. The most daring speculator, recklessly made by the most fortunate man in any other way could not be expected to yield such a reward for outlay as will this concert in Kentucky, and it is quite within the limits of probability that any of our readers investing a trifle in this speculation may realize a fortune which will make them independent for life.

CALL AND EXAMINE,

"Dearman's Double Damper FIRE PLACE."

A REMEDY FOR SMOKING CHIMNEYS. A radiator of heat. Safety against fire and a saving of fuel. It can be used for burning Wood or Coal.
F. W. STOY,
Office up stairs, corner of Broad and Marietta streets.

ATLANTA, GA., September 1st, 1873.

Mr. Stoy—Dear Sir: I am very much pleased so far, with your Patent Damper Fire Place. Those you have put in my house seem to obviate the great difficulty of smoking, by giving a good draft to the chimneys, which you know were very bad, or had that reputation heretofore.

I think the rooms can be kept warm in winter with one-third less fuel than now used, in an ordinary grate or fire place. And another great feature is that you can prevent the coal soot from flying into, and over the room, and all it contains.
Yours truly,
sep2—d2w N. J. DOOLITTLE.

MOSBY.

A Rich Characterization of His Radical Episode.

THE UNGRATEFUL BUSHWHACKER.

From the Chicago Tribune.]

When the Administration party came to reconstruct the South it found Mosby among the assets of the institution, and accepted him as a first-class article, at first cost and without question. The Administration opened wide its paternal arms, and embraced the bushwhacker and saluted him on both cheeks. The fatted calf was killed, and the paternal mansion was brilliantly illuminated in honor of the return of the prodigal son. The ninety-and-nine faithful ones who had not wandered away grumbled some, but it was of no avail. The bushwhacker had the best in the house, and unlimited permission to range at his own sweet will, without let or hindrance. Nothing could better suit a bushwhacker. Then the administration, having accepted its convert, vaunted itself upon him, and held him up as an example to the South, and made some plaintive appeals to the ex-Confederates to follow the example of this illustrious chieftain, and return to their allegiance to the stars and stripes. The new convert, like the Fiji woman, made a great show of zeal, and became a propagandist. He took to the stump, and preached the doctrines of the administration, and, upon one occasion, even advocated Cæsarism. His devotion was so great, and led him to such extremes of zeal, that he was first to nominate Grant for a third term. At last, however, there came a time when the ruling passion returned.

Then Mosby began to bushwhack. Having unlimited permission to do as he pleased, he availed himself of it. He gathered in all the fat offices he could find lying about the White House. He ravaged the Treasury and Interior and Revenue Departments, and loaded himself with patronage. He got appointed High Steward and Purveyor for Virginia, and Dictator for all the rest of the South. When he had got all the plunder he could carry, the ungrateful bushwhacker made off as fast as he could to his friends, the Virginia Conservatives, and now there is not only weeping and wailing, but cursing and gnashing of teeth, in the camp of the Administration, and "political guerrilla," and "ungrateful gorilla," and "unprincipled bushwhacker," now take the place of the endearing epithets which the party organs were wont to bestow upon Mosby.

We doubt whether there will be much sympathy wasted upon the administration. We doubt even whether the bushwhacker is to blame for his course. Having got inside the Republican camp and witnessed nothing but plunder and corruption going on all around him, we are not surprised that he should follow the prevailing fashion, take all he could carry and quit.

A Hint to Housewives—How to Keep Kitchen Ware Clean and Bright. Every housewife of neat and tidy habits takes special delight in keeping all the tin, copper and iron ware of her kitchen as clean and bright as painstaking labor can make them. A pride in this direction is commendable, and always meets the smiling approval of the "tyrant man" who pays the household bills. Remember that SAPOLIO is the only thing on earth that will make an old tarnished tin pan or a rusty kettle shine as bright as new. And by the use of Sapolio it is the quickest and easiest thing in the world to keep every utensil in a high state of polish.

DR. TUTTS VEGETABLE LIVER PILLS.

The startling drawback on nearly all medicinal agents has ever been that in their process of purgation and purification they have also debilitated the system. To obviate this difficulty physicians have long sought for the agent that would

PURGE, PURIFY AND STRENGTHEN

At one and the same time.

Their research has at last been rewarded by a discovery which full realizes the fondest desires of the medical faculty, and which is justly regarded as the most important triumph that Pharmacy has ever achieved. The important desideratum is

Dr. Tutt's Vegetable Liver Pill.

Which purify the blood and remove all corrupt humors and unhealthy accumulations from the body, and yet produce no weakness or lassitude whatever, but on the contrary tones the stomach, and invigorates the body during the progress of their operation. They unite the heretofore irreconcilable qualities of a STRENGTHENING PUGATIVE and PURIFYING TONIC.

Dr. Tutt's Pills are the most active and searching medicine in existence. They at once attack the very root of diseases, and their action is so prompt that in an hour or two after they are taken the patient is aware of their good effects. They may be taken at any time without restraint of diet or occupation; they produce neither nausea, griping or debility, and as a family medicine they have no rival. Price 25 cents a box. Sold by all Druggists. Principal office, 18 and 20 Platt St., New York.

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN JURUBEBA BLOOD PURIFIER

Is the Most Powerful Cleanser, strengthener and remover of Glandular Obstructions known to Materia Medica.

It is specially adapted to constitutions "worn down" and debilitated by the warm weather of Spring and Summer, when the blood is not in active circulation, consequently gathering impurities from sluggishness and imperfect action of the secretive organs, and is manifested by Tumors, Eruptions, Blotches, Boils, Pustules, Scrofula, etc., etc.

When weary and languid from overwork, and dullness, drowziness and inertia take the place of energy and vigor, the system needs a Tonic to build it up and help the Vital Forces to regain their recuperative power.

In the heat of Summer, frequently the Liver and Spleen do not properly perform their functions; the Uterine and Urinary Organs are inactive, producing weakness of the stomach and intestines and a predisposition to bilious derangement.

DR. WELLS' EXTRACT OF JURRUBEBA

Is prepared directly from the SOUTH AMERICAN PLANT, and is peculiarly suited to all these difficulties: it will cleanse the VITIATED BLOOD, strengthen the LIFE-GIVING POWERS, and REMOVE ALL OBSTRUCTIONS from IMPAIRED AND ENFEEBLED Organs.

It should be freely taken, as Jurubeba is pronounced by medical writers the most efficient PURIFIER, TONIC and DEOBSTRUENT known in the whole range of medicinal plants.

Dr. Calhoun's Liver Pills.

I am engaged in the Manufacture of the Celebrated Family Medicine, known as the Calhoun Liver and Anti-Bilious Pills, under the supervision and assistance of Dr. Calhoun himself. This Pill has been in use for the last thirty-five years, and has taken precedence over all other Family Preparations, by all that have used them. Thousands would certify to their great value if necessary. One fact should supersede any amount of certificates, and that fact is this: Dr. Calhoun has been physician to the Fulton County Prison for over seven years, when the number of prisoners ranged from 20 to 70, laboring under all the diseases incident to this climate. With but few exceptions, they have all been treated with this Pill, and astonishing to say, during that long period not a solitary death occurred under his treatment. This fact is worth any amount of testimonials.

I am now prepared to fill orders from Druggists, Merchants and others. All orders sent me shall receive prompt attention. There is no type of FEVER, DYSPESIA, DIARRHŒA, DYSENTERY, RHEUMATISM, CHOLERA MORBUS, BILLIOUSNESS and SICK HEADACHE, or other diseases of a Southern climate, but yields readily to this preparation.

For sale by all druggists.
